

Why have schools moved to Master Block Schedules?

- To maintain/expand choice in the face of increasing core credit graduation requirements;
- To improve school management;
- To allow/encourage teaching in depth and higher level thinking skills;
- To permit more (or less) time for students to attain high levels of mastery on state accountability assessments; and;
- To reduce stress both for students and teachers, yet still offer a broad and rigorous curriculum.